Civit, M. (2004) Guía para la anotación de las funciones sintácticas de Cast3LB: un corpus del español con anotación sintáctica, semántica y pragmática

WARNING! discontinuity in functions (n/c suffixes at the end of the tags) is not mentioned in the guidelines. n suffix stands for the head (the finite (.Fn) or non-finite (.NFn) clause) receiving the complement; while c suffix stands for the complement (the dislocated function of a finite (.Fc) or non-finite (.NFc) clause). In sentences with two cases of discontinuity, the second one holds the suffix 2, both in the head and the complement.

.NFn: means that the constituent is a non-finite clause, one of whose complements is dislocated
.Fn: means that the constituent is a finite clause, one of whose complements is dislocated
.NFc: means that this complement is dislocated from its non-finite clause
.Fc: means that this complement is dislocated from its finite clause

ATR	Attribute
ATR.d	Discontinuous Attribute
ATR.Fn	Attribute, head of a dislocated complement
ATR.NFn	Attribute, head of a dislocated complement
CAG	Agent Complement (in passive voice)
CC	Adjunct (expressing place, time, mode, cause, goal)
CD	Direct Object
CD.Fn	Direct Object, head of a dislocated complement
CD.Fc	Dislocated Direct Object, depending on a finite clause
CD.NF2n	Direct Object, head of a dislocated complement
CD.NF2n.NFn	Direct Object, head of two dislocated complements
CD.NF2c	Dislocated Direct Object, depending on a non-finite clause
CD.NFn	Direct Object, head of a dislocated complement
CD.NFc	Dislocated Direct Object, depending on a non-finite clause
CD.Q	Quantitative Direct Object
CI	Indirect Object
CPRED	Predicative Complement
CPRED.CD	Direct Object Predicative Complement
CPRED.SUJ	Subject Predicative Complement
CPRED.SUJ.NFn	Subject Predicative Complement, head of a dislocated complement
CREG	Prepositional Complement

CREG.NFc	Dislocated Prepositional Complement, depending on a non-finite clause
ET	Textual Element
IMPERS	Impersonal Mark
MOD	Verb Modifier
NEG	Negation
PASS	Passive mark (SE-passive)
SUJ	Subject
SUJ.Fn	Subject, head of a dislocated complement
SUJ.Fc	Dislocated Subject, depending on a finite clause
SUJ.NFn	Subject, head of a dislocated complement
SUJ.NFc	Dislocated Subject, depending on a finite clause
VOC	Vocative
